

iLPC

 INTERNATIONAL LEGAL PRACTITIONER COURSE

INTRODUCTION

It is proven beyond all doubt and debate that the traditional law degree (undergraduate or graduate or post-graduate) does not equip you for law practise. This is where the need for an academic programme tailored for equipping the practising lawyer is most emphasized.

The Law Pundits International Legal Practitioner Course (the iLPC) is a premiere online certificate programme designed to create the best lawyers for the legal industry. Our programme is aimed at lawyers wishing to enhance the quality of their services rendered.

OBJECTIVES

The iLPC course is more than a certificate programme. The course is designed to equip the practising lawyer with fundamental and essential skills for effective law practice. The course not only imparts the participant with legal knowledge but also the essential skillset that the legal industry seeks in its employees. So, the course aims to produce employable lawyers; not ineffective know-it-alls.

The course does not narrow itself in training lawyers for corporate practice but also for litigation practice considering the current trend the legal industry is driving towards. The course provides insights on litigation drafting, conveyancing and pleading.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THIS COURSE

The course is designed for every lawyer who is new to law practice and also for students in the final year of law school.
